Teaching Is Our Business

For fifty-five years we have welcomed the privilege of teaching people the "joy" of dance. Studying a performing art places our students on a path of self-discipline and self-discovery that will carry them through many life-time challenges with greater ease.

At the Joy School we have gathered a stellar faculty to bring out the "star" in each student. Many of our teachers have degrees in dance, musical theater, vocal performance music, teaching and other related fields as well as years of professional experience in the arts and education.

The average stay of our students is from toddler to teen and beyond. Our goals include knowledge of dance technique, muscle control, body development, improvement of rhythm and timing, music appreciation and an attuned respect for the arts. We believe our students happiness and positive self-images are essential to their growth as individuals and the most certain element of success is a positive mental outlook. We encourage them daily with verbal praise and by using Achievement Charts and Picture Pages.
